Good Racing at the Potomac Boat Club Regatta.

Wenther and Water Conditions Favorable and a Large Crowd Present-Heeox Bents Daly in the Challenge Single Outrigger Contest-Results of the Other Events.

A double scull race, a single cutrigger thallenge race, a race between the Georgetown eight and the junior and the second wight of the Potomac Boat Club, and a double paudle cance upset race, provided on excellent series of events yesterday ofternoon for the Potomac Boat Club re-descending sun, which sank out of sight before the completion of the races, offered little inconvenience to the rowers, and the river was unruffled by the faintest breeze. The beat house, and the three-masted schooner which isy moored to the adjacent wharf, were crowded with spectators, and the dainty fall costumes of the ladies lent the picturesque charm of color.

Shocked flat on his back. He pluckly resumed play after a rest of twe minutes. The New Yorks were made a present of the game by Pitcher Donovan, who got a bad case of rattles in the fourth. The score:

The first event, the double scull rac Tas contested by four crews. The upper Yas contested by lour crees. The appropriate for the boat house, rowing to the Aquedus Bridge and return. In this race McGwa and May took the lead from the star coming in winners by fully a boat length.

Interest centred in the second even the challenge single outrigger race, be tween Lieutenant Daly, of the Potoma Boat Club, and Lieutenant Hecox, of th Columbia Athletic Club. From start finish an excellent race was made and was not until the very last second that it race was was by Hecox, less than a quater of a boat length in front of his con

The contest between the eights Georgetown and the Potomacs resulted a finish in which no water showed be tween the three boats competing. The course was from the Three Sisters to the boathouse. The race was won by the Po-tomae Juniors, who were contestants in the racing at New York on Labor Day. This crew has been practicing togethe steadily during the season and were the favorties in the race. The record made by the Georgetown crew was more than creditable considering that the eight had been in practice only since the opening of college, and that but few of the best rowers were among the eight. The second crew of the Potomac Boat Club who com-peted in the event were selected from the best available rowers of the club and had had no previous practice together.

The last event was the most amusing, the double-paddle canoe upset race, in which four crews were entered. The race was started from the Virginia shore, finwas started from the Virginia shore, fin-dehing at the boathouse, after an upset of the boats within easy distance of the float. The first crew upset premaiurely and struggled with boat and paddles to the fin-ish, only to be distanced by the next cance, which approached conveniently near the float before upturning. The attempt to svoid the upset pade by one of the crews was fernitrated by these contestance the was frustrated by these contestants wh had already been submerged. The summary of the races follows:

BASEBALL FOR CHARITY.

Census Office Tenms Play for Benefit of Storm Sufferers.

The Census Office ball teams covered themselves with glory yesterday afternoon in their game at National Park. In addition to their generous support of the fund for the Galveston sufferers they presented one of the most exciting and interesting games of ball seen at the park for many seasons. The rivalry between the two teams was strong, and the game was red hot from start to finish. The colors of the Agricultural Division were blue, while the Disbursing and Population divisions donned the red. While the advocates of the red ribboners had largely the advantage, numerically, the friends of the blues were very demonstrative,

The teams were made up largely from young gentlemen who learned the game at college and all the fine points were played. The stick work of the farmers was superior to their opponents, as the score shows, and their team was in better practice and condition.

The enerous duties of Capt. Harry Burrows, who is the disbursing clerk of the Census Bureau, prevented him from giv-ing his team the practice they needed. The teams had but little preliminary work which made their exhibition the more creditable.

Governor Merriam and the members of his staff occupied private boxes and ap-plauded all good plays of either side. There were about 2,500 people present about 25 per cent of whom were ladies, who were as vociferous in their applause as were the men.

as were the men.

The game was called promptly at 4 o'clock with Captain Burrows' boys at the bat. Barrows, the first man up, walked; Bates singled, and Herring, with a double to centre, brought both men home, Herring scoring on Overy's single. This was a good start for the reds, and pandemonium broke loose in the part of the grandstand occupied by their support-

The farmers went to the bat with blood in their eye and tied the score. They deplicated this work in the second inning, while the card punchers and payroll ar tists added two to their score.

tists added two to their score.

No further business was transacted until the sixth, when the farmers added one to their score. In the seventh inning the headquarter's boys tied the score. It was now growing dark, and it was evident that no further innings would be played. There-fore the farmers nerved themselves for a supreme effort and with some fortunate stick work drove two men across the plate, the winning runs. The score by Close Race for the Pennant.

There are now but a few points between Brooklyn and Pittsburg, with the chances favoring the Pirates, as the pitchers of the latter club are all in good shape, while BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Mente Cross won the came for Philadelphia today, bringing in life form. Hanlon's twirlers are not in their best form. Hanlon is giving McGinnity and Kliname for Philadelphia today, bringing in life work at present, intending, evidently, to make a Garrison finish. The itting. With the score tied in the ninth each were the direct result of bad work in the box. Donovan, who lost Saturday's game, is not, never was, and never will be a pitcher fit for fast company. He has wonderful speed, but no control, and what is worse, no baseball brains, and it is a matter of surprise that Ned Hanlon will take any chances with him. At the present time it is even guessing as to who will be the 1900 pennant winners.
